Lisa Daria Kennedy is a commercial and fine artist whose original designs have been featured in Giftware News, Giftbeat, Gifts and Dec and Home Decor Buyer. As a commercial graphic designer, her client list includes, University of Miami, Florida, TJX, Home Goods, Big Y and Mall of America.

She is also engaged in creative, social-media projects; A Painting a Day and the Big C Visual Journal. A Painting a Day grew out of admiration for the 35 years of daily collages created by artist John Evans. The Big C Visual Journal is an online journal celebrating the survivors of cancer.

Recently she has been selected for the Faber Birren National Color Award Show, a finalist for the Raymar Art Painting Competition, and featured in several New England art shows.

An instructor at the Massachusetts College of Art, she teaches Adobe Photoshop and Illustrator in the Illustration department.

In her spare time, she's paddling and painting the coastline of Massachusetts.
